PROGRESS

Clock Switching Time Is Ripe

The semi-annual craziness—pushing the clocks around—is again almost upon us. Next Saturday night, really Sunday at 1 a.m., you're supposed to push the hands ahead an hour, though most folks will do the switching upon retiring for the night. Same result could be achieved by those who want to, getting up and starting to work a little earlier. But maybe that's too simple.

Comes also the Littles' anniversary on the 24th. Could go out for dinner, but then the missus can cook so much better than most dining-out places that she's somewhat hesitant—and they serve much too much food for us to appreciate it. Any suggestions?

Tony Armanini, wholesale egg distributor, has been elected president of the Valley of the Moon Lions club, and will assume the office at installation ceremonies within a few weeks, along with a complete slate of officers. Al Gordon is currently the president.

The Lions will be prominent in the Father and Sons' Olympic Games banquet, set for tonight at Veterans' Memorial building in Sonoma. Some 600 guests are expected, with Brutus Hamilton, UC athletic director, bringing several of his star track and field men. Outstanding school pupils will be honored guests. The affair is sponsored yearly by the Lions club in cooperation with other service clubs.

Our poor Detroit Tigers got off to a horrible start in the American league, but we still see no reason to change our prediction that they'll finish first or second. Pittsburgh had a similar start in the National, but they also should finish right up there.

Big improvement in the Boyes downtown section: Blacktop shoulder has been installed in front of Deluxe Delicatessen, Ed Reedy's and Opportunity Knox's establishments on the highway, corner of Calle Del Monte. Now if the county would just fix up some more of the bad or nonexistent shoulders around the town everything would be lovely. And less dusty.

Chef Cardini of the Glen Ellen restaurant is quite a fisherman. Last week he and friends went to Center bypass near Knights Landing and came home with a fine catch of catfish. The chef's share was nine fish weighing about 10 pounds each. He took us downstairs to view the beauties. But, oh, those steps we climbed down—almost straight down. How the chef ever makes it we'll never know.

Valley Jewelers and Trueman's Dress shop are in the throes of remodeling and rearranging. More room will become available for the dress shop and the jewelry section too looks better and better every day.

The Phil Provenzanos have sold their Mendel's Cafe to Harry Notzon, formerly of Hayward. Temporarily he will be assisted in the operation by his brother, but when school ends at the Hayward schools he expects to bring his wife and four children to the Valley and reside here permanently.

The Provenzanos after three years decided to rest awhile. Phil had a serious illness early in the year and felt that a rest was justified. There is a possibility that he and Mrs. Provenzano may resume business activities again in the Valley.

Reluctantly, spurred on by some expert needling, we'll agree that KCBS was the first to broadcast regularly, starting in 1909. But there still are reservations. The station was started in San Jose, and during the first few years, only reception was by another station not far away. It wasn't until almost 1920 that much of anybody heard the station and by that time there were many other stations operating.

Back in Oregon, Ill., there was an editor, Zibe Landers, whom we always looked upon as our ideal. He had a lot of homely humor, had some good sources of copy supply, and to us he was an ideal country editor. And he wielded immense influence in his territory.

We have an older brother in Newport, Ky., and the other day he sent us a passel of clippings from Zibe's paper, all of them about 50 years old. Brother Roy thought we might be able to use some of them. And we sure will. So if you read something in Progress that doesn't sound exactly as if the Old Colonel wrote it, just maybe it's out of this collection.

Better stop in at the fire station pretty soon and get your 1959 burning permit. It's about that time when you must have a permit to legally start an open fire—and it appears this will be a year of excessive danger from forest, brush and grass fires. The local fire boys may be a bit lenient on enforcing the rule for a few more days, but don't count on it after May 1 at the latest. The permits are free.

Now we're told that wine is about as good as penicillin in combatting some forms of disease. Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan, one of the world's most noted nutritionists, emeritus biochemist at the University of California, has been testing the role of wine in nutrition since 1938.

She disclosed that significantly lower levels of cholesterol, the fatty substance that deposits inside blood vessels and causes them to harden, were found in the liver's adrenals and blood of rats and hamsters fed with wine compared with those of animals that drank equivalent solutions of alcohol and water, and that most cholesterol was deposited by "control" animals that drank only water.

Dr. Morgan warned that wines may lose their riboflavin and folic acid contents if exposed to light, and recommended use of dark bottles for wines to protect their nutritional values.

(And to think we quit drinking wines of any description about three months ago!)

Verily in this day and generation, the father raiseth up his son on the streets and sidewalks.

He layeth around the soda founts and imbibeth slop and hookworms.

He growth in knowledge of nothing save cigarets and cuss words.

When he attaineth the age of 16, he acquireth a suit of clothes turned up at the bottom above his feet.

He displayeth a pair of noisy sox, with purple background and violets to the front.

He weareth lowcut shoes and a green tie.

He looketh like a banana merchant on the streets of Cairo.

The inside of his head resembles the inside of a pumpkin.

He falleth in love with a spindle-shanked girl with pink ribbons in her hair, and he craveth for an automobile that he may ride her forth in the springtime.

He thinketh work is sinful.

He scattereth his mother's pin-money like a cyclone scattereth a rail fence.

He sitteth up at night to write poetry and giveth no thought to the multiplication table.

His mind turneth to the vanities of life, and not to the high cost of corn bread.

Verily, verily, he needeth a board applied vigorously to the southwest corner of his anatomy.

He htinketh his father a plodder and his mother a back

He pictureth to himself great riches suddenly acquired.

He dreameth of steam yachts and private cars.

Yes, he thinketh himself the real stuff.

He butteth in where he is not wanted; he criticiseth his elders; he purchaseth cheap perfume and smelleth louder than a billy goat.

When he groweth up he getteth a job as clerk in a store at $1 a day and swipeth extra from his boss until he is caught. — From Ogle County Republicain, Oregon, Ill., 50 years ago.
